

Six Are Killed By Japanese Bomb In Western State

Washington, May 31 (AP)—Undersecretary of War Patterson disclosed today that a woman and five children were killed by a bomb from one of the long-range Japanese balloons sporadically attacking the western part of this country.

Asked if he had any further information on the balloons, Patterson said he cited the incident of the woman and the children to emphasize the need for precautions.

He said the six were killed in a western state, but gave no names or other details except that the tragedy occurred during a fishing trip when one of the children began playing with an unexploded bomb dropped by one of the unmanned paper balloons. The woman's husband and one child, Patterson said, were the only survivors.

The Army previously had reported that no property damage has resulted from the balloon raids.

Traffic Is Light

Traffic on the highways was reported as extremely light over Memorial Day holiday. This was due probably to the fact that the holiday came in the middle of the week and there were few people able to take advantage of the holiday. Sergeant James J. Cunningham in charge of the State Police barracks at Lake Katrine stated that traffic was about one third that of a year ago.

Albany Driver Charged With Not Having License

Beatrice Jenkins of 29 North Swan street, Albany, was arrested Wednesday at Malden by State Trooper Ray Dunn on a charge of operating a car without an operator's license. Taken before Police Justice Seldes at Saugerties, a $5 fine was imposed. The arrest was made while Trooper Dunn was on patrol looking for a hit and run driver who had been reported as having hit a car parked in Catskill.

The Catskill accident was reported at 11:20 o'clock Wednesday night and the car, which was not located, is reported to have been a black Chevrolet and was driven south after failing to stop following the crash.

'B' Ceiling Boost Will Not Mean More Gas

It was explained by the Office of Price Administrator in Albany that the increase in the "B" ceiling will not mean more gasoline for all "B" users.

In explaining the increase in the "B" card ceiling, O.P.A. Administrator Bowles, pointed out that a person who needs only 200 miles a month, for example, for home-to-work driving will continue to receive a "B" ration of 200 miles. But a person who uses his car in his business and who needs more gasoline than he is now receiving to carry on his business, will be able to get additional gas up to a maximum of 650 miles a month. In both cases they will receive the increase of 50 per cent in the "A" ration.

Under the new 650 mile "B" card ceiling, every state in the union receives the same treatment.

This will replace the present "B" card ceilings of 325 miles a month in the east, 475 miles in the midwest, and 400 miles in the far west.

Inch of Snow Falls

Albany, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—An inch of snow mantled Owls Head today as temperatures in the 40's elsewhere in the state ushered out the rainy month of May. A cold area in the north portion dropped Malone's temperature to 33 degrees early today, 32 degrees under yesterday's high. Nearby Owls Head registered 28 and Mountain View 30. The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted frost tonight in the northeastern portion. It said temperatures would range from 32 to 39 degrees in the state.

J.; a nephew, Kenneth Ramshaw of Cape May; two nieces, Mrs. Dorothy Robson of Cape May, Mrs. Marion Brost of Salem, Ore., and several cousins. Funeral services were held this afternoon at the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home at 2 o'clock with burial in Pine Bush cemetery, near Kerhonkson. The Rev. Dorr Van Ethen of Woodbourne, officiated. Bearers were Herman Wood, Melvin Fluckiger, Leslie Greene and Jacob Terwilliger.

John M. Regan of 367 Hasbrouck avenue, died yesterday. A railroad section foreman, he had been retired 10 years. Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Nellie Regan Devine; a nephew, James D. Devine, steamer first class U. S. Navy; two nieces, Mrs. Marie Merrill of Poughkeepsie, and Miss Mary Costello of Maple Hill; a grandniece, Margaret Merrill; and a grandnephew, J. Daniel Devine. Funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Home for Funerals, 27 Smith avenue, Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock, thence to St. Mary's Church where a requiem Mass will be offered at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

A high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of the soul of Miss A. Isabelle Wheeler by the Rev. J. Pelletier at the Notre Dame de Victory R. C. Church in Whitehall this morning at 9 o'clock. Included in the large gathering at the church were a number of her Kingston friends. While she resided in the chapel of St. Mary's Church, hundreds of her associates and friends called to pay their last respects. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock the Rev. John J. Drew of St. Mary's Church visited the chapel and led a large gathering in the recitation of the holy rosary for the repose of her soul. Many beautiful floral pieces placed near the casket all testified to the high esteem in which she was held. The burial took place in the family plot in Whitehall.

James J. Beatty of 105 Bruyn avenue died late Tuesday evening following a lengthy illness. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Loretta Myers Beatty, one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Palen of this city, one granddaughter, Helma, Mrs. Amelia DeGraff and Mrs. Edward Myers of Kingston, Mrs. George Epple of Albany, Mrs. James Pine of Cottekill, Mrs. William Palen of Walden and Mrs. George Embree of Stone Ridge and one brother Ira D. Beatty of Kingston. Mr. Beatty was a carpenter by trade and was very well known throughout this area in the building trades. For a number of years he was a cabinet worker in the former H. W. Palen wood-working plant on Central Broadway. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the late home. Burial will be in the family plot in Wiltwyck Rural cemetery.

Word has been received in this city of the sudden death of Louis L. Shafer at his home in Marcellus. Mr. Shafer spent his childhood and early manhood in Kingston and leaves many friends and relatives in this and neighboring communities. He attended the Kingston public schools and Kingston Academy and was for several years employed by the Cornell Steamboat Company. In 1904 he married Maude George, also of Kingston, who survives him, besides two daughters, Mrs. George Aklin of Rochester, N. Y. and Mrs. Ross Peterson of Skaneateles, and a son, Robert L. Shafer of Syracuse, and five grandchildren. Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Mansel Fink of Bantam, Conn., and a sister and brother, Hazel M. and Frederick H. Shafer of Brooklyn. The deceased was buried from the Methodist Church at Marcellus, of which he had been a member for many years and where he formerly had been superintendent of the Sunday school. Mr. Shafer was highly respected and sincerely loved in the community in which he had lived for more than 20 years and many friends and neighbors there will greatly miss him. Burial was in the family plot at Highland Cemetery, Marcellus.

The funeral of Mrs. Louise Palisi will be held from the home, 484 Broadway, on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and thence to St. Joseph's Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered, with burial in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

To make a savory browned rice to go with chops or escalloped vegetable dishes, heat bacon fat in a frying pan, add chopped onion and boiled rice and cook slowly, stirring frequently with a fork.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors, and officials and employees of the F. Jacobson and Sons for their kindness and expressions of sympathy extended during our recent bereavement in the death of our sister, Miss A. Isabelle Wheeler, also for the beautiful floral tributes.

(Signed)
MRS. ANN TYRELL, Sister.

WESTERNERS IN CABINET

There are many points of interest in the President's first cabinet changes. All of his choices are men who have had experience not only in the fields to be covered, but also in Washington.

Tom C. Clark, of Texas, Attorney General to succeed Mr. Biddle, has been in the Department of Justice, Congressman Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, the new Secretary of Agriculture, is an experienced dairy, horse and grain farmer in both New Mexico and South Dakota. Now in his third term in Congress, he has recently headed a special investigation of food conditions. And Judge Schwellenbach is a jurist from Seattle whose record as a liberal Senator makes him acceptable to all factions as Secretary of Labor.

But perhaps one of the most significant aspects of the triple choice is geographical. All of these men come from the western third of the United States, with its vast area, sparse population and enormous potential wealth. As the population center shifts westward, it is well that some governmental power shift with it. For much of the hope of this country lies in the comparatively undeveloped land, power and industrial capacity of that section and in its fresh, vigorous outlook.

WESTERNERS

Western stories are the rage again. They come and they go, and just now they are coming. American publishers, joining together under the name Armed Services Editions to send books to the armed forces, have sent 100 Western titles in 9,000,000 copies. Even mysteries would be hard put to meet this figure.

Why are they so popular? Love of red-blooded adventure is one reason. Another may be the yearning after a way of life. Something like this is one reason for the popularity of the musical comedy success, "Oklahoma." The main cause for this interest may be that the spirit of pioneering and of the frontier is not dead. The sense of the size and greatness of this country, as the men have viewed it in training and moving across it, may inspire in them a feeling that the way of Western story may still be a way of life.

Then, too, romance has a way of reincarnating itself from age to age. Its appeal is universal and everlasting.

FOOD FOR ALL

President Truman has moved to hasten the sending of civilian supplies to the liberated nations in Western Europe. In calling former President Herbert H. Hoover for advice and inviting Governor Dewey and Alfred M. Landon for consultations, the President intends to tackle this big job in a non-partisan way.

This is a task by no means new to Americans but historic in its present scope. In a time of great distress and scarcity of living essentials over perhaps half of the world, our nation is moving through its government to ease the hunger and save the lives of perhaps hundreds of millions. Along with the food will go medicines, clothing and other necessities. This work transcends partisanship.

The world grows small now. Food is produced and transported more readily. It is simpler and more natural than it used to be, to provide people with things they need. We can imagine a time, possibly only a generation from now, when food may be provided and fairly distributed for the whole world family.

FIGHTING MEN

Japanese fighters seem uncommonly excitable, for such supermen as they profess to be. The charges in which their warriors engage are of course spectacular, and get full credit of bravery and disregard of danger. They can die with a flourish. But they do not represent the cold courage of the British at Balaklava. Their wild shrieks and "banzais" rather suggest hysteria.

It is not hysteria that wins great battles and campaigns. Rather it is now as it always has been, the slow, steady, resistless

MEMO ON HOOVER

President Truman has again exhibited a faculty to assuage ill-will and to requite injustice. His invitation to Herbert Hoover to visit him at the White House was a simple act of decency and good taste. It may turn out to be more than that, namely, a call to service, although I doubt that one visit will accomplish that much.

Mr. Hoover has been the most viciously smeared and maligned man in the whole of American history. The attacks on him were not accidental. They were the result of a planned conspiracy designed to make of a man a symbol of opposition and hate and to heap upon that symbol every possible vilification. I have studied that process in detail. I have access to the entire file of lies, falsehoods and libels. I have traced many of these foul deeds to their authors with the astonishing discovery that among them were not always those little mosquitoes who call themselves Communists nor the Leftist moles, but that often the authors of the infamies were persons who had benefited while Hoover was in office and who took advantage of his apparent unpopularity to disassociate themselves from him on the "Stop Thief" principle of making the most noise to hide their own treacherous guilt. It has been a fascinating study in cheapness and vulgarity.

It is then an act of simple courtesy and finesse when President Truman, recognizing the dignity of position, invites the only living ex-President to call upon him—ending the apparent approval of the White House for the abuse of an individual for political purposes.

Until this meeting, Mr. Hoover and Mr. Truman had never seen each other and what their personalities will do at first impact is difficult to analyze. In spite of his prolonged public career, Mr. Hoover is a shy, awkward person, deeply emotional, unselfish, capable of expending himself in a righteous cause. Since 1914, his cause has been food. He believes that there is ample food for all human beings on their own level of consumption but that the distribution of food is frightfully mismanaged, so that in time of crisis, innocent civilians, particularly children, starve. In this war, that has been indisputably and tragically true.

His administration of world feeding and domestic American feeding during the last war was altogether more efficient, more able than anything produced in this war. The Food Administration of the last war makes O.P.A. altogether ridiculous; Belgian Relief and the American Relief Administration of the last war still puts U.N.R.R.A. of this war in the shade.

One reason for this is that prices in World War I were based upon stabilizing prices at points nearest to the producer—that is, elevators, stock-yards, creameries, milk-sheds, etc. Then a "mark up" was established for each stage of manufacture or distribution. Prices in World War II fixed at arbitrary levels at various outlets with subsequent adjustments. World War I methods resulted in the uninterrupted flow from farmer to consumer, required only a few hundred men for enforcement, and resulted in no black markets and no local famines. World War II methods require thousands of men and women for enforcement, require hundreds of millions in subsidies to patch up irregularities, and have resulted in local famines and black markets.

Prices in both wars had advanced considerably before the United States entered the wars, and before control of prices was established, but the increase has been greater in this war.

The total administrative expenses of the Food Administration in World War I from beginning to end, including the relief of Europe, was under $8,000,000. The expenditures during the first 19 months of World War II, the Food agencies probably exceed $200,000,000. The Food Administration in World War I returned all appropriations of working capital intact and earned a net profit of over $60,000,000 in food operations. It paid out no subsidies. The food agencies of World War II have paid out several hundred millions of losses on food and subsidies. Thus, the Food Administration in World War I under Hoover, cost $50,000,000 less than nothing for its 19 months, whereas the food agencies of World War II have cost several hundred millions in the same period.

ODD BEHAVIOR CAUSED BY INFECTION
A man who has always been normal mentally begins to do odd things, have little lapses in memory, gradually gets worse and has to enter a mental hospital. His own history and his family history is investigated yet there is nothing in his own or his family's history showing anything of a nervous or mental disorder.

Physically there may be a history of constipation, a rise in temperature slightly above normal in the afternoon, perhaps some trembling, some stomach disturbance with or without vomiting.

What is a common cause of odd behavior in individuals who have always been normal in every way?

Some years ago, in a New England State Hospital the superintendent noted a great improvement in the nervous and mental condition of one of the patients a few weeks after two infected teeth were removed. In less than three months the patient had fully recovered and was allowed to go home. The superintendent was so surprised and pleased to discover that removal of infected teeth could give such brilliant results within such a short time that he brought in various specialists—dental, nose and throat, stomach and intestines, gall bladder, kidneys and others—and within a few months was able to discharge about 40 per cent of the patients.

Psychiatrists call odd behavior caused by infection or other poisons, toxic psychosis. In his book "Fundamentals of Psychiatry," Dr. Edward A. Strecker, Professor of Psychiatry, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, states that in toxic psychosis the cause is direct and can usually be found as: (1) a poison from outside the body—alcohol, morphine or an industrial poison; (2) a poison from inside the body such as infection from teeth, tonsils, sinuses or other organs; (3) gland disturbances such as too much thyroid juice being manufactured.

While the percentage of such cases is in general not as high in the state hospital mentioned, still where an individual has always been normal and then begins to act queerly, it is well worth while to investigate from standpoint of infection or other poison.

LEE G. MILLER'S COLUMN

With the 25th Division at Bataan Pass, Luzon (by wireless)—
"I firmly believe he would have been head of the army someday," said Maj. Gen. Charles L. Mullins, Jr., commanding general of this division.

He was talking about his assistant division commander, Brig. Gen. "Dusty" Dalton who was killed by a Jap sniper.

"I was planning to recommend that he be given a division," the general said. "I don't know of any man in service with more tactical brilliance or administrative acumen."

General Dalton won a Silver Star with an Oakleaf cluster, and a Bronze Star.

He had been a general only briefly. Until March he was a colonel, commanding the 161st Regiment, which he took over during the Guadalcanal campaign, and General Mullins said he had made it a regiment as good as any in the Army.

General Dalton was 35. He was graduated from West Point in 1933. His wife who writes poetry under her maiden name, Katharine Starbird, is the daughter of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. A. A. Starbird. She lives in Burlington, Vt.

I had a long talk with General Dalton in his tent the day before he was killed, and I was impressed with his keenness. He obviously had a lot of thinking.

He was talking about the doughboys, and he was full of praise for them.

"The 'dough operators' and the medics and a lot of others do a magnificent job," he said. "But it's the rifleman who has to go in against the machine guns. A 'dough operator' has an immediate sense of accomplishment. So does the medic who helps a wounded man. A rifleman has to take a hill—just why, he hardly knows. And when it's taken what's he got? Just another hill ahead of him."

"Ernie Pyle was dead right when he said a soldier's war is just a hundred yards or so on each side of him. He doesn't see the big picture."

Turning from politics and business for a minute it was on April 22, 1931, that the famous Stellar Quartet, who for years made records for the Columbia Phonograph Co., gave a concert in the auditorium of the high school.

I attended the concert that night and think it was one of the best I ever heard. I particularly enjoyed that part of the concert in which the quartet sang some of the numbers they had made recordings of.

In the years when I had a phonograph I had a number of the records made by the Stellar Quartet, which to my mind was one of the finest men's quartets ever to make recordings for the phonograph.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

I have been covering Common Council proceedings for the past quarter century, and the warmest sessions that I recall were those when Palmer Canfield was mayor. In the early years of his administration the aldermen continually bucked the mayor, sometimes successfully and sometimes not.

The council sessions during the Canfield administration were recalled to mind when I ran across a clipping of April 17, 1931, telling of the death of Jacob J. Schlip, who had served the Fourth ward as its representative in the Common Council for four terms.

Mr. Schlip served as an alderman during the Canfield administration, and I recall that Mayor Canfield made every effort to debar him from representing the Fourth ward in the council on the grounds that he did not live in that ward but lived at his place of business on East Strand.

The mayor took court proceedings to have Schlip ousted, and at the hearings held it was contended that Mr. Schlip did not live at that Fourth ward address, but kept some chickens and coosters there.

However, Mr. Schlip's contention that he maintained his residence in the Fourth ward.

During the years that I have covered the council sessions I recall many men who represented their wards in the city's legislative body. One I recall well is Fred M. Dressel, local plumbing contractor.

Mr. Dressel was very active when a youth in the local Y. M. C. A., and that is where I first became acquainted with him. In his younger years he was one of the best basketball players at the Y.

When Palmer Canfield first became mayor of the city in 1934, he appointed Mr. Dressel to serve as plumbing inspector, a post he held for several years.

Each of the states can administer the unemployment compensation laws and make its own rules. In some states the unemployment insurance is used as a device for payment during periods of unemployment. Should the federal government prescribe rules conditioning its contribution on a uniform treatment of the states and if this is done will the states feel that their rights are being impaired and that they are being given a federal subsidy which in effect could control the whole of the unemployment compensation system?

The program to which the administration has called attention is not yet worked out. Congress will have a battle on its hands if it tries to manage or direct the state government compensation plans. There is no reason why the federal appropriation cannot be made, however, without allocations, and in such a way that the states could allocate the actual compensation to the individuals on the basis of need with some check on the sincerity of the worker's effort to get a job.

Unemployment compensation as a principle of this era of social reform has been widely accepted. The questions raised are by no means unsolvable. But it cannot be denied that the federal government will be getting deeper and deeper into employer-employee relations and will ultimately find it necessary to keep down the expense of unemployment insurance by taking constructive steps to prevent unemployment. This leads into the realm of economic planning.

Undoubtedly a case can be made for orderly reconversion of war-time facilities so that employment would not be without work for any considerable length of time. But there is the fact that individuals like to choose the town where they want to work and there is no way by which work can always be made in the exact locality where the individual chooses to reside. Some incentive to pay compensation to offset transportation or moving expenses may eventually be proposed. It is a subject that can hardly be simplified into a mere matter of whether one favors or opposes the increase of unemployment insurance to $25 per week.

Unemployment Insurance Proposal Will Be Strongly Debated
Questions in Next Few Months
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 31—President Truman's proposal that unemployment insurance benefits be raised to $25 a week by supplementing what is now given in a range that varies from $10 to $15 a week will be one of the most deeply controversial questions that Congress will debate in the months to come.

There are two aspects to the matter which make it complex. One is the fact that living costs vary from state to state and uniformity of compensation would appear to be impractical. The other is that if inflation takes hold in America, $25 may be too little in any state to tide over the individuals who are left without jobs in the readjustment period.

There was a time when America debated the minimum wage laws of the states and of the federal government to determine what was a reasonable wage for subsistence. Yet the sums ranging around $15 a week by which an individual was supposed to be able to support his family are now criticized as inadequate.

The whole argument as to whether the unemployment insurance should be increased may turn on the all-important question of whether $25 in future years will purchase what $15 did before. If the price ceilings are not going to be maintained and manufacturing costs are going to rise because governmental controls of war-time are relaxed, then it may conceivably happen that $25 will hardly be a subsistence wage.

Entirely apart from the adequacy of the sum is the problem of administration. Who shall be given the insurance? Should it be given to the husband and the children work be entitled to extra compensation because the wife worked in a war plant? Should persons who have been offered jobs and refused them for temporary or other reasons adequate to themselves but not satisfactory to some governmental agency be entitled to unemployment compensation for 26 weeks of the year? Should there be a line of demarcation between compensation paid in the abnormal period of readjustment following the close of the war and permanent compensation paid in any period of unemployment hereafter?

Each of the states can administer the unemployment compensation laws and make its own rules. In some states the unemployment insurance is used as a device for payment during periods of unemployment. Should the federal government prescribe rules conditioning its contribution on a uniform treatment of the states and if this is done will the states feel that their rights are being impaired and that they are being given a federal subsidy which in effect could control the whole of the unemployment compensation system?

The program to which the administration has called attention is not yet worked out. Congress will have a battle on its hands if it tries to manage or direct the state government compensation plans. FOR SUMMER GREENS USE TIPS AND LEAVES OF NEW ZEALAND SPINACH

LEAVES OF VIKING SPINACH ARE EASILY WASHED CLEAN

New Zealand Spinach for Summer Greens
By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

SPINACH is spinach but not all spinach is summer spinach. Ordinary spinach thrives in all soils, but only during the cool seasons. In July and August the ordinary spinach plants form flower stalks before they are fully developed.

That New Zealand spinach if you have a fondness for summer greens. This spinach has rapidly gained favor because it does not mind hot weather. It is profitable in the small Victory garden because it can be cropped continuously during the growing season, and it is always tender.

One can have a continuous supply of summer greens from New Zealand spinach, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden Graph, one harvests just the branch tips and succulent leaves of the plant. If only four or five inches are removed from the top of the leaves as fast as they develop, new growth will continue to appear throughout the season.

New Zealand spinach has a more open growth than our spinach. For this reason it does not collect as much sand or dirt and thus it is easier to clean. It is rich in a peck of green and is gathered from one plant several times during the season.

Another new variety of spinach which is addition to being easy to clean, is a variety of Viking spinach. As illustrated, the large leafy leaves of Viking spinach are easy to clean. It is not, however, a hot weather spinach as is the New Zealand variety.

Memorial Day reminds us of those who have served so well in ton was the speaker. Mr. Houston was at one time district superintendent on the Kingston district. He now resides in Willow during years. Our best tribute to them is to carry on for all that which they so nobly began.

The newlywed came in after a hard day's work and sat down to the meal cooked by his own darling.

"Cooked—Darling, did you really cook these biscuits yourself?"

"Wife—Of course, darling. But why do you ask?"

"Newlywed (murmuring)—I'm stronger than I thought you were. I never would have believed you could have lifted them off the stove."

The Seventh War Loan Drive under the chairmanship of Mrs. Julia S. Leaycraft is well under way with high hopes of reaching the Woodstock quota of $36,000.

The latest recruits of the Woodstock Blue Star Brigade are Miss Anna Sargent Smith, and

Memorial Day Plea

There is a place where poppies
Wave their scarlet heads and sigh
Above the hearts of men
Who gave themselves
Covenant of peace to buy.
And he but needs walk there alone
Who says, that wars will never cease.

Where grim white crosses,
Arms outstretched,
Make efficacious prayers for peace.

An editor had cause to admonish his son because of the lad's reluctance to attend school.

Fend Father—You must go the Girls' Club of the sixth and seventh grade of Woodstock School. These girls hope to begin their campaign by filling their first book of War Bonds and there-becoming second lieutenants join-ly.

The final figures for Woodstock's contribution to the United National Clothing Collection are impressive and prove once again that although small in size and population, the hearts of its inhabitants are large and all-inclusive; that the spirit of cooperation and helpfulness is active; and that Woodstock always can be re-every day and learn to be a great scholar, otherwise you can never become an editor, you know. What would you do, for instance, if a magazine came out full of mistakes?

Son—Father, I'd blame them on the printer.

And the father wept for joy, for he knew he had a successor.

every day and learn to get a great share. Six large truck loads of clothing were sent over to West Hurley on their first leg of a long journey around the world. This included nearly 400 coats; every kind of garment for men, women and children—many in excellent condition, and all wearable. Sometimes the shoes resoled and repaired. The local shoemaker contributed several boxes of finished shoes. There were many blankets, a large box of towels, sheets and household necessities.

All responsible for the success of this drive deserve much praise and commendation, but especially thanks must go to Mr. Denman chairman, and Miss Lura Haupt chairman of the collection center.

Let Them Sleep

Some lie asleep on yonder hill, do not mourn them, do not weep;—
Let them slumber on in silent peace—
Let them sleep.

—Not sad, they live anew; the Lord has sworn their souls to keep;—
Fold them close in memory—But let them sleep.

No cares for these who wait the dawn, no rivers swift, no mountains steep;—
No tears for those who lie at rest—Let them sleep.

PRISONERS PAY DUTY

Repatriated prisoners of war asked to pay custom duty on gifts they brought back to their families in Natal, reported to incident to Dr. Vernon Shearer, Member of Parliament. Durban reports added that Dr. Shearer paid the amount, totaling about $200. Arrangements are being made to allow prisoners of war to be exempt from customs duty provided the gift does not ex-

GRIN AND BEAR IT

A cartoon illustration showing a man in a suit and hat, possibly a detective or investigator, looking at a group of people. One person is holding a sign that says "WAGG". The scene appears to be outdoors, possibly on a street or in a public area. The man is looking towards the right, where a group of people are gathered. One person in the group is holding a sign that says "WAGG". The illustration is in a classic cartoon style, with bold lines and a somewhat exaggerated expression on the man's face.

 Jungle country, wild and crude,
 From historic halls of fame
 Do not find his blessed name;
 But fight he fought, what
 Rewards he bore,
 Toured an Overseas,
 Mother love in memory

Chicago Welcomes Clark and Troops At Big Reception

Chicago, May 31 (AP)—Chicago gave a rousing reception to Gen. Mark W. Clark and his U. S. Fifth Army troops who came back home from the war in Europe on Memorial Day.

The 49-year-old commander of the Allied armies in Italy was hailed by hundreds of thousands who lined the 15-mile parade route from the municipal airport to the city's Loop.

For the tall, bronzed general, hero of the North African and Italian campaigns, the flight from Italy to Chicago was in the nature of a homecoming for Chicagoans. They cheered him as a native son and gave him a welcome which highlighted the city's holiday observance.

Thousands were at the airport for the arrival of Gen. Clark and the more than two score officers and enlisted men who came with him in three silver transports from Paris in 29½ hours.

A 17-gun salute and an estimated 60,000 persons, including Gen. Clark's wife and daughter, greeted the general and overseas fighters as they reached Congress Plaza, the parade's terminal point.

LIGHTS OUT

Northfleet, England, (AP)—Because so many street lamps have been maliciously broken—many of them by children using boxes and arrows—residents of this North Kent town may have to go without street lighting, the local council says.

New York Guard

The New York Guard—17½ to 1945
A Part of the Armed Forces of Our Country for 170 Years
Written by Capt. Montgomery Evans
Assistant Public Relations Officer,
New York Guard

Brig. General Anson C. Goodyear, who commands the 2nd Brigade of the New York Guard, while on duty in the Pacific area as deputy commander of the Red Cross in charge of Public Relations of that organization with the armed services, visited many battle areas.

With Hawaii as his base, he first went to Guam and Saipan with Arthur H. Sulzberger of the New York Times. His duties next took him to the rear areas of New Caledonia and New Zealand. He then went to Guadalcanal and the Russell Islands.

General Goodyear spent Christmas at Espiritu Santo with New York's own 27th Division. He then visited the Fiji Islands. He made another trip to Guam and Saipan, and next was assigned for observation duty to the 10th U. S. Army.

The general spent another two weeks with the 27th Division at Espiritu Santo; then two weeks with them on convoy to Okinawa. He landed on that island with New York's Division and observed two weeks of the desperate combat there from the battlefields.

General Goodyear is lavish in his praise, honor and homage to the 27th Division. He states that the entire staff of that organization—that is, heads of sections—is made up of New York National Guardsmen. According to his memory, they are as follows: (all are lieutenant colonels) G-1, 2, 3, and 4 are respectively: O. M. Bidwell, formerly a member of the 7th New York Regiment; W. M. VanAntwerp, also from Albany; and Lieut. Colonel Misdorf. The adjutant general is Harold Oiler, the judge advocate general is O. D. Nasl, son of Conde Nast, who served formerly in Squadron A. The inspector general is Richard Burke from Long Island, and his brother Andrew Burke is the quartermaster.

The chemical warfare officer is Hans Bendixen, formerly of the 7th New York Regiment. The ordnance officer is Lieut. Colonel Feilchmeyer, and the chaplain—a Catholic priest—is Frank Yarwood.

General Goodyear states that, in his opinion, the war in the Far East will not be finished in less than two years. He can see no possibilities at this time of a negotiated peace. To date, the Japanese have proven their determination to die to the man in battle, rather than be captured.

Up to the time the war in the Far East is won and federal troops and the National Guard are demobilized and reorganized, the need for New York Guard troops becomes ever greater and greater.

General Goodyear was born in Buffalo, N. Y. He now lives in Long Island. He is a graduate of Yale. The general is as prominent in business as he is in the New York Guard and the Red Cross. General Goodyear served with great distinction in World War I, commanding in that conflict the 81st Regiment of Field Artillery.

Every eligible man should enlist in the New York Guard!

May Rainfall Is Heaviest in Years

So far this month there has been a total rainfall of 7.66 inches of rain in Kingston, according to the records in the city engineer's office. This is the heaviest rainfall for any May during the past 12 years, according to the city records.

Temperatures on Wednesday in the city ranged from a low of 51 degrees in the morning to a high of 66 degrees in the afternoon. Throughout the day a cold, chilly wind whirled through the streets, but the sun shone throughout the day, and there was not a cloud in the sky.

This morning at 4 o'clock the official thermometer was recording a temperature of 50 degrees.

WHERE? STRAIGHT DOWN

London, (AP)—Britain's largest underground factory, built to evade bombing, is in a disused coal mine and covers an area of 80 acres. Location of the factory still is secret.

Reservoirs Are Filled

The extremely wet spring has filled all four of New York city's reservoirs for the first time in two years. The Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity reports that Croton, Ashokan, Schoharie and West Branch reservoirs are full to their capacity of 253,000,000,000 gallons and overflowing. Daily consumption of water runs about 960,000,000 gallons and in summer even more. In spite of the capacity storage, the department warns against waste of water.

Annette Ransom Is Wed at Ellenville

The marriage of Miss H. Annette Ransom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert R. Ransom, 294 Clinton avenue, to Robert T. Southwick, son of Mrs. Harriet T. McLaren, 456 Lucas avenue, was performed Memorial Day at 11 a. m. in Ellenville. The ceremony took place at the home of the Rev. William Conable who officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her sister, Miss Hope E. Ransom, was maid of honor and Edward LeRoy Lee, son of 93 South street, Newburgh, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at Schenck's for the wedding party. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Southwick left for a short wedding trip. The bride chose an aqua green ensemble with white accessories for traveling. They will make their home at 256 Lucas avenue.

Mr. Southwick is a salesman for the H. W. Clark Biscuit Co., North Adams, Mass. He is a past counselor of the United Commercial Travelers and B.P.O.E. No. 550, Ellenville.

Permissible to Remove Hat at Small Reception

Dear Mrs. Post: At a small wedding reception for my daughter to be given at home, shall we wear a hat? It seems very formal to me and I think the guests will think so, too. However, my daughter wants to follow all the rules and she insists that I have to keep on my hat.

Answer: Your daughter is right. At least, you should have your hat on during the ceremony. If after the ceremony you choose to take it off because you feel more comfortable or think you look better without it, that would be quite permissible. During the ceremony, it is always proper (and often times excited) that women's heads be covered.

When Mother Is Plump

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm on the plump side, which complicates knowing how to buy a dress for my son's wedding. I look well in all shades of blue and dark blue certainly makes me look less plump than any of the lighter shades. But, would dark blue be too dark for the mother of the bridegroom?

Answer: There are many shades of blue bright enough to have real color and not light enough to make you look plump. You might combine a bright deep blue with a pale tint of the same hue as a trimming. It is a personal opinion, but I think navy blue is a very difficult color to make gay (as the French say). I may not be making myself very clear but there is a greenish navy that is one of the flattest, saddest colors I know of, whereas one of the cozier hues can be deep and very beautiful.

"What to Wear and When" answers questions on proper attire. Write in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. for Mrs. Post's leaflet and inclose a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

$8,532 in Unemployment Payments Here in April

Albany, May 31—Benefit payments to unemployed New York workers during April amounted to $786,580, a decrease of 25 percent from March, according to an announcement today by Edward Corsi, industrial commissioner. Benefit checks were issued to 11,328 eligible claimants during the last week in the month, compared with 12,600 during the last week in March.

The Unemployment Insurance Fund passed the 900 million mark during the month, totalling $900,691,109 on April 30. This represented a gain of $13,020,324 from the end of March.

April payments for the Kingston office amounted to $8,532. A total of 69 claimants collected benefits during the last week in April as compared to 214 claimants during the last week in March. The average benefit check was $18.83. These figures, Mr. Corsi pointed out, cover the entire State.

Kingston Takes Saugerties 3-1, Loses to Arlington Club 4-3

Hatchmen Stated to Go to Newburgh Friday for DUSO League Game There

Kingston High School baseball varsity won and lost in two games this week at the municipal stadium.

Tuesday, the locals defeated Saugerties, 3-1.

Wednesday, the Maroons were edged out by Arlington, 4-3.

Friday, Coach Pete Hatch will take his K.H.S. representatives to Newburgh for a DUSO League duel with the Free Academy tossers. A victory would tie the Maroons with the Hilby City school for league leadership.

Tex Brown made his first appearance of the year on the mound in Tuesday's contest and scattered seven Saugerties bingles along the route to ring up his first victory of the season. The northern Ulster squad presented a much improved team over the one which the Hatchmen shutout 10-0 two weeks ago in Saugerties. Donlon went the route for the Blue and White and held the Maroons to five hits.

Misfortune struck the Maroon in the first inning against Saugerties when Second Baseman Johnny Vertella was hit over the right eye with a foul tip off his own bat and forced to leave the game.

How Scores Were Made
Saugerties grabbed a one run lead in the second inning of Tuesday's contest when three singles, two of them Texas leaguers by Miasal, Doyle, and Terpening sent the tally across. However, Kingston came right back in the home half of that frame to gain a lead which was never relinquished. A double by Gus Koch and singles by Cy and Tex Brown, together with a stolen base sent two runs across to give Kingston a 2-1 lead.

In the sixth inning, Tex Brown singled, stole second, and then stole third, and when Myers threw the ball into left field romped home to give the Maroon a 3-1 win.

Arlington Wins
Arlington drew first blood in the Memorial Day game and although Kingston rallied with three runs in the fourth, the Dutchess county squad scored two more in the sixth to win 4-3.

An error by Gus Koch and a double by Doremus accounted for the first Arlington run in the second inning and a walk, a stolen base and a base knock by Kenard drove home the second Arlington tally in the third frame. The big Kingston rally in the fourth began when Dulin walked and was forced by Crosby at second. However, a single by Koch and a free pass by Cy Brown loaded the sacks. Tex Brown then forced Crosby at home but after running the count to 3 and 2, Bill Glaser walked to force in Koch with the first Kingston run. A single by Ken Lowe drove home two more runs to send the Maroon into a 3-2 lead.

A tremendous triple by big Doug Kennard to deep right center field started the Arlington rally in the sixth frame. Michaelowski singled home, stole second, and then scored himself when Doremus poked his second hit of the day into center field. The Maroon threatened in the home half of the sixth when a walk to Cy Brown and a single by Tex Brown put runners on first and second with one out. However, Bill Glaser failed to left and although a wild pitch moved each runner up on base, Ken Lowe fanned to end the threat and give Arlington a 4-3 victory.

SCOREBOARD

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Wide open pennant scrambles in both major leagues appeared likely today as the majors passed the first quarter pole with fan interest and turnstile totals soaring toward new wartime highs.

A total of 220,294 paid customers, the largest single day crowd in years, yesterday saw six of the eight double headers end up in splits, with the league leading New York Giants retaining their five and a half game advantage over the second place Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League and the first place New York Yankees keeping their two game margin over the runner-up Detroit Tigers.

Giants Drop Four
The Giants, who threatened to run away with the National League race a week ago when they enjoyed an eight-game lead over their nearest rivals, have dropped four of their last five and now are within hailing distance of the rest of the loop. Only one game separates the fifth place world champion St. Louis Cardinals, from the second place Pirates, while the seventh place Boston Red Sox are only five games behind the second place Tigers in the junior circuit.

The largest crowd of the season and the largest in the Yankee Stadium since the third game of the 1943 World Series, 67,816 paid, saw the Yankees and Tigers divide a twin-bill by identical scores 3-2. Skeeter Webb's squeeze bunt scored the winning run in the ninth inning of the opener to give Detroit and Stubby Overmire a victory over the Bronxites and Walter Dubiel. Jim Turner turned in a superlative relief job to save the game for the Yankees in the nightcap. He relieved Allen Gettel in the ninth, with men on second and third and none out and retired the side scoreless.

Divide Games
Chicago and Philadelphia divided their two games. The White Sox behind Thornton Lee took the opener 5-2 and the Athletics won the nightcap 4-2, giving Russ Christopher his seventh victory. Despite the split, the White Sox held third place because Washington twice dumped the Browns. Victory came in the first 3-2. In 13 innings with the help of Mike Guerra's game-winning single and the second, 5-0, behind the fifth hit chugging of Marino Pieretti. Pittsburgh's nine-game victory streak went down the drain when the Brooklyn Dodgers bounced back from a 13-5 pasting engineered by Rip Sewell, to outslug the Buccos, 14-10 in a wild nightcap.

Two More Than Wagner
Bill Voiselle got his bumps for the third time in a row after the New York Giants had trimmed Chicago, 8-6, in the opener. The Giants' righthanded ace was belted ed early by the Bruins who then breezed home, 11-2, on Bob Chapman's three-hit effort. The largest Wrigley Field turnout since 1939, a crowd of 42,565, saw Mel Ott bang out a double and single for a lifetime total of 4,890 bases, two more than the former National League mark held by Honus Wagner of Pittsburgh.

Ray Sanders' two-run homer in the 12th gave the Cardinals a 4-2 shade over the Boston Braves in the first game, but Jim Tobin pushed the world champs back into the second division by scattered 11 blows for a 9-2 score in the second game.

Take Both Contests
Cincinnati was the only National League entry to take both ends as Ed Heusser blanked the Phillies 3-0, on four blows and the Reds blasted four Phil throwers for 13 safeties and a 9-8 margin in the finale, despite homers by Vince DiMaggio, Jimmy Fox, Coaker Triplett and Jimmy Waddell.

Cleveland and the Boston Red Sox divided in the other American League contests, with rookie Jim Steiner playing both villain and hero roles. The Sox's second sacker muffed an easy pop fly to set off the Tribe's winning run, 4-3, but his double started Boston on a six-run spree that pulled the second out of the fire, 7-6. Frankie Hayes, traded yesterday by the A's, socked two homers for the Indians.

Sparando Victor In Sweepstakes, Ned Day Second
Hillside, N. J., May 31 (AP)—The first annual Whitey Munn Bowling Sweepstakes was won Tuesday night by Tony Sparando of Hempstead, N. Y., who rolled a total of 925 in the four-game tournament held at the Hillside Recreation Alleys.

Sparando howled his high score Monday in the second leg of the three-night competition. Ned Day of West Allis, Wis., former world match game champion, took second place with a 912, best score rolled in the opening play Sunday.

Charlie Ritter of Brooklyn, placed third, with 902, making nine strikes in the final game for a total of 279. Other high bowlers: Joe Kistoff, Cleveland, Ohio, 901; Alex Muzinski, Elizabeth, 888; Andy Varpapa, New York truck bowler.

Peak Of Hialeah Season
Miami (AP)—Sale of stamps for mailing scenic postcards is considered an accurate barometer of sightseeing crowds at Hialeah. The peak of the season was reached one Sunday when 2,700 stamps were sold for cards. Before the war single day sales reached as high as 3,500.

Puerto Ricans Seek Revenge Here In Saturday Night's Opener at 9

Count on Getting Even for Upset They Got at Stadium in '44 Season

The Puerto Rican Stars will invade the municipal auditorium Saturday night bent on getting even with the Recreationers for the victory the locals posted last year. This means that the club piloted by Joe Hoffman must dig in and bear down to ring up a favorable score for the opening game of the season at the uptown park.

In their skirmish here last summer, the Stars, a reputable ball club around the metropolis, took it on the chin, 11-3, and clamored for a return engagement to get even.

The visitors started in winning form, collecting two runs in the first inning, but couldn't make the grade after the Kingstonians started swinging their big bats to collect 12 hits off two pitchers. Santaella and Manori. Another run in the sixth frame ended their scoring.

Four runs in the second canto and another in the third, gave the Recs five of their tallies and they added two in the sixth and four more in the seventh for their 11 runs.

Saturday night, the Puerto Ricans will arrive with the same lineup as last season: Rey Ab: Looce, 1; Diaz, cf; Fontanez, rf; Aranga, lf; Puhaz, 1b; Vidac, ss.

Santana, 2b and Santaella and Manori, pitchers.

That game they dropped here was pitched by Paul Arnold, who did a commendable job on the mound, but it is felt that the chattering Ricans will be up against even fancier pitching when Bill Lohrman, ex-big leaguer starts throwing for the Recs.

Lohrman has been working out and according to those who have watched him smoke the horseshoe into the big mitt, the New Palz apple grower is right in shape. Bill had several offers for the season, but promised the Recreation committee he'd be on their club.

The rest of the Kingston lineup announced to date is: George McKinnon, 2b, formerly of the Eastern Shore League now in the navy.

Larry Knapp, outfielder, a navy player who is the property of Jersey City.

Nick Solomon, outfielder, who has been playing with metropolitan teams for several seasons.

Skip Wilson, 3b, and Speedy Shelly, ss, of the Union City Reds. John Scully, p, from the Anna club.

Wesley Westrum, c, 330 hitter who played National League ball in 1941.

George Olsen, c, New York University player under observation by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Kevin Connors, West Point, 1b. Ernie Downer, Poughkeepsie, cf. Bill Thomas, relief pitcher and utility fielder.

Lohrman, Connors, Downer and Thomas are familiar to Kingston fans, but the rest of the players are new.

Girvan, Tremper, Schick, Novosel and Linsalatta, were notable to sign with Kingston this year because of previous commitments.

A. B. "Turk" Karam, Brooklyn Dodger scout, who rounded up the new players remarked, "When Kingston fans see these boys in action, I'm sure they'll never miss the old standbys."

Starting time of the game is 9 o'clock. There will be brief opening ceremonies to start the season, with Mayor William Edelmuth throwing the first ball.

Officials will be Jess Collier of Ossining, umpire, replacing Earl Champagne, who is ill, behind the plate, and Bill Schwab, local arbiter, no the bases.

Baseball Meeting Downtown Tonight
Plans for a baseball team to represent the downtown section of Kingston will be made at a meeting tonight in Wimp's on lower Broadway, starting at 7:45 o'clock.

At Bailey, who announced the meeting, said, "I've signed several outstanding players from my section of the city, and I'm sure that there will be a number of others at tonight's meeting expressing intentions of playing."

Everybody interested in downtown baseball is invited to attend the meeting.

Record Attendance At Memorial Day Races, Ball Games

New York, May 31 (AP)—More than half a million sports fans—actually 553,389— jammed race tracks and ball parks on the Memorial Day holiday, causing old marks to fall by the wayside. Taking advantage of a sunny day, a record total of 33,195 turned out at the race track, tossing $13,476,021, another new high, into the pari-mutuel machines.

A total of 220,294 diamond devotees witnessed eight double headers in the major leagues of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati.

The largest crowd was at the Yankee Stadium, New York, where 67,816 watched the Yankees and Tigers split a twin-bill.

Ban on Automobile Racing Not Lifted

The Office of Defense Transportation ban on automobile racing in effect since July 31, 1942, has not been lifted. O.D.T. District manager A. C. Dunn warned today. Removal of certain restrictions on horse racing has created the erroneous impression that automobile racing may now be resumed, he explained.

"General Order O.D.T. 14A continues to prohibit motor vehicle races, whether by so-called minor autos or otherwise," Mr. Dunn said, "and under its provisions no person may lawfully promote, manage, or conduct a motor vehicle race or operate, participate or permit the operation of a motor vehicle in any race or racing exhibition."

In Jungles of Assam, India

U. S. Army Signal Corps Photo

An SOS Base Along the Stilwell Road—Lieut. Ethel L. Stork of the Army Nurses Corps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stork of 130 South Manor avenue, Kingston, N. Y., recently completed her 22nd month of service with an army hospital in the jungles of Assam, India.

Today Lieut. Stork's hospital unit, which handles Chinese soldier casualties exclusively, has established in a jungle clearing beside Stilwell Road a "touch of America." Although the wards and living quarters are constructed of bamboo, with thatched roofs, innovations of American architecture have added such things as porches, alcoves, fences and arbors. And the nurses of the hospital devote their spare time to cultivating "Victory" gardens and flower plots.

However, life in the Assam wilderness once wasn't so tranquil. Lieut. Stork recalls. "When we first came to this part of the world, just as American engineers were beginning to cut the Stilwell Road into Burma, this area was virgin jungle," she says. "The engineers loaned us one bulldozer and a handful of native coolie workers and everyone in the outfit pitched in to clear an area for the new hospital. It was back-breaking work, and when the monsoon turned the jungle into one vast quagmire it was worse. Once it rained 16 days without a lull."

Lieut. Stork, who graduated from Kingston High School and the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing, has been in the army 30 months.

2 Fliers Rescued Following Crashes

One Man Is Killed When Craft Falls in Catskills; Others in Hospital

Stewart Field, Newburgh, May 31—The two AT-6 training planes missing from this field since Sunday night were located late Tuesday morning by an aerial searching mission in the Ashokan reservoir region near Kingston.

Two of the occupants of one plane were rescued, injured but alive, by a ground searching party and the pilot of the other plane was fatally injured, it was announced by Col. Joe W. Kelly, commanding officer of Stewart Field.

The one plane piloted by Lieut. Joseph W. Cook, 25, of The Bronx, with Sgt. Michael R. Lucidi, 23, of Arnold, Pa., as passenger, crashed just south of West Shokan in the Ashokan reservoir region about 20 miles west of Kingston. Lieutenant Cook and Sergeant Lucidi are recovering at Stewart Field Hospital.

The other plane piloted by Lieut. Matthew Melvin O'Brien, 22, of Buffalo crashed about three miles east of Phoenicia, 15 miles northwest of Kingston. Lieutenant O'Brien was killed instantly.

Both planes were returning from Buffalo to Stewart Field Sunday night on a routine combat training mission.

A qualified board of army air force officers has been appointed to determine the cause of the accident.

A requiem Mass for Lieutenant O'Brien was offered this morning at 11:45 o'clock at Stewart Field chapel by the Rev. George Favier, Catholic chaplain.
